We also leveraged the help of many of our existing Community Partners across the country, to assess market needs and develop a customized approach to ensure that our programs have the most meaningful impact within the play space.

UNIQUE INCLUSIVE PLAY SPACES

No longer stuck on the sidelines

“ He is more social and interacting with more children. He is not feeling isolated inside his own home. There was nothing to do [at other playgrounds], just sit there and watch.”

A new world for what my child can do

I know she was so excited when she first saw it to be able to access everything. Her face literally lit up and she was like mom, they put everything where I can reach it and where I can get to. She was so excited. I think for her it is the opening of a new world of I can do what everybody else can do. She really wants to do all the things that her sister does. She wants to do all the same things that the other 4 -year olds in the neighbourhood are doing.

We can play together like a family

“When you have a kid with a disability, trying to find those activities that you can do and, as my other two are getting older, they are doing more different activities that he can't be a part of so we are still trying to always find things that we can all do together. Having this is great because everyone is excited to come here. We can come here and do that as a family versus a lot of other places in the city where we can't.”
