What is the Primary Reserve?

- The Primary Reserve is the part time component of the Canadian Armed Forces.
- The Primary Reserve is divided into three sub-components:
 - The Army, Naval and Air Reserves.
- Reservists serve on a part time basis in their own community.

Who we are

- The Rocky Mountain Rangers are a Primary Reserve Infantry Regiment within the 39 Canadian Brigade Group.
- The RMRANG have two locations Kamloops and Prince George.
- Our primary task is to recruit and train reserve infantry soldiers to augment Canada's military during local, national and international deployments.

What we do

- Infantry Soldiers are the Army's primary combat fighters and are responsible for closing with and engaging the enemy.
- What does that mean in the Primary Reserve context in Northern British Columbia, today.

What we offer

- A unique job that works around the average school or work week and can scale to full time employment under conditions that differ slightly from a regular force contract.
- During the summer months we offer full time employment through training courses or in support of training courses.
- Competitive pay and comprehensive benefits.
- Education support and incentives.

Challenges and opportunities

- Recruitment and Retention.
- A Permanent Home.
- Returning to Prince George.

Local success

*We have accomplished a great deal together
But there is still more we can do.*
