Dear colleagues,

This letter comes to you as I end my time as the MLA for Prince George-Valemount. It has been the honour of my life to serve this region and the people who call it home.

Over the course of more than two decades, I have come to value the opportunity that locally elected officials have to work together on behalf of their mutual constituents. It is so important to raise issues, propose solutions and speak with one voice whenever possible. We have come a long way when it comes to a commitment to working together in the best interest of the people who elected us. I can only hope that approach will continue.

Thank you for your public service. Elected office is certainly not for the faint of heart. While it involves much personal sacrifice, it is also rewarding. Please know how much I have appreciated working with each of you for the betterment of our communities and Northern British Columbia.

While I will no longer be the MLA for Prince George-Valemount, I will always be a champion for this incredible part of British Columbia. I look forward to continuing to give back and serving in meaningful ways because I truly love where we live.

It has been a privilege to work with you.

Shirley Bond, MLA

Prince George-Valemount
