1. INTRODUCTION

The Mayor and/or the Council of the City of Prince George establish committees, commissions and boards, and appoint members of Council and/or citizens to be members of those bodies.

In addition to the aims and purposes established by statutes and bylaws, these bodies:

- provide information and well considered advice to Council and staff on issues of concern to the public and the City;
- educate and raise the awareness of Council and staff; and
- provide concrete recommendations for consideration by Council and staff.

These committees, commissions and boards provide opportunities for broad community participation in the development of municipal infrastructure, the delivery of municipal services, and providing input on important civic issues.

This Procedures Manual is designed to provide information to committee members, committee legislative support staff and staff liaisons about their respective roles and responsibilities.

This Manual also describes committee appointment and meeting procedures, quorum requirements, election of a chairperson, conflict of interest, reporting, and orientation of new members.

COMMITTEE MEETING GUIDELINES

The Agenda

- Agendas require focus with clear parameters for content and alignment with terms of reference/purpose.
- Agendas are finalized one week before committee meetings.
- Items and accompanying material that are received after the agenda has been prepared and distributed (but prior to the meeting) will be moved to the following meeting's agenda.
- All public members are to submit proposed agenda items and related material to the committee chair and staff liaison for consideration.
- Have an agenda and stick to it.
- The agenda should be viewed as a contract between the committee chairperson and the members: "In return for your preparation, time, and participation, we will deal with these issues."
- The agenda package should include supporting material which all members should receive and read in advance of the meeting.

Rule of the Clock

- Start the meeting on time and end it on time. Do not reward latecomers.
- Keep the meeting length between 1 to 2 hours. Any more than that, people become restless and disinterested. Any less than that, there is not enough time to complete activities and achieve goals, something that needs to be done at every meeting.

Handling the Business of the Meeting

- Most meetings have too many issues on the agenda. Focus on those that are for discussion or decision, are important and urgent, and where the background work has been done.
- Keep the time spent informing people to a minimum.
- Most groups do their most effective work at about 2/3 of the way through the meeting. You should plan the most difficult decisions and discussions at that point.
- During the meeting you should allow time to warm the group up to effective team decision-making, and then let emotions and conflicts cool before people leave.
- Remember, good decision-making requires:
  - background information;
  - options and recommendations;
  - the right people;
  - preparation; and
  - participation.

Role of the Chairperson

- The chairperson plays an essential role in ensuring effective meetings.
- The chairperson should be a:
  - leader - willing to give up personal interests, and work with the whole group; and
  - facilitator – able to encourage people to participate, help people to listen to each other, and to reflect back the common threads of the discussion.
- The chairperson's duties include:
  - checking to see if a quorum is present and starting the meeting on time;
  - announcing the business items in the proper order (as they appear on the agenda);
  - recognizing members entitled to speak, in the order in which they request to speak;
  - ensuring resolutions have been duly moved and seconded and voted on;
  - enforcing the rules of procedure and decorum;
  - expediting committee business;
  - deciding questions of order and responding to procedural inquiries (with the assistance of the legislative support person or staff liaison); and
  - declaring the meeting adjourned.

Decision-making

- Committees should strive for consensus in their decision-making. However, final decisions are made by resolutions adopted by a majority vote of the members present and eligible to vote.

Voting and Debating Rights

- Each member of a committee, including the chairperson, may make or second motions, may debate motions, and may vote.

Rules of Decorum and Debate

- Committee meetings tend to be less formal than regular Council meetings. The chairperson of a committee has the authority and duty to determine the level of informality of a meeting, to facilitate an effective meeting.

General Meeting Rules

Following are some general meeting rules, which may be helpful in making committee meetings more efficient and effective:

- the maker of a motion has a right to speak first to the motion once it has been seconded;
- to speak to a motion a second time, a member should wait until all those who wish to speak to the motion for a first time have done so;
- members must remain courteous and objective, and avoid personal comments;
- remarks must be relevant to the matter being considered;
- remarks are to be directed through the chairperson, who determines who has the right to speak and in what order;
- members should not interrupt another speaker;
- there are no limitations on the number of times a member may speak on a motion, or the length of time spent speaking to a motion;
- motions should be clear and unambiguous;
- a decision to close debate can be made by unanimous consent, committee resolution, or the chairperson.

Unprovided Cases

- In all unprovided cases, the proceedings of committees shall be governed in accordance with the council procedures bylaw.
