Please spend more money on warming centres, day shelters, and community resources. Increased spending on bylaw is reactive, and won't address the actual problem of more and more people being unwell and homeless in our city. We need more care and compassion, and to support the social and health services who can help people get well and off the streets. Give people spaces to go, stay warm, and get help, and you won't have to worry as much about enforcement or people lighting fires to be warm.
